
1. Summarize the main body of sex ratio adjustment theory and then the specific theoretical concepts and predictions on which this paper is based.
2. Critique this specific paper.
3. Outline what the next set of predictions and tests of those predictions should be if you were Dreiss et al. In other words, what would be in the next grant proposal that you would write if this paper were the background data on which you are building a grant.