Special Opportunities

Fanimal

Campus Ambassador

Fanimal is a venture-backed tickets & live events platform with two key differentiators: low, transparent prices (no service fees!) and social group purchase. Fanimal is looking to spread the word through its campus Ambassador program. In exchange for elevating the profile of Fanimal on campus, Ambassadors will receive a Fanimal T-shirt, account credit, and discounts to concerts & live events (two superstar Ambassadors have received free Coachella wristbands). Ambassadors who are interested in a more substantive role will be eligible to shift over to our Growth team, an hourly paid position involving strategy and operations as we scale nationally.

We have Ambassadors at Stanford, Cal, UCLA, USC, UT Austin, and several other schools, and are excited to continue growing the program!

Lone Pine Repair

Lone Pine Repair is looking to sell their business this term so that they can be on campus with the new owners for the rest of the year to facilitate a smooth transition to the new management. A few key financial points are that they make around 250% ROI on money invested into parts and that as an owner you could make between $150-$200 an hour servicing repairs. There is a strong need for business oriented students looking to takeover roles such as inventory management, marketing outreach, accounting and general strategy. As a result, the company provides a comprehensive business experience that is incredibly attractive on a resume and useful for interviews. If anyone is interested, please reach out to Natalie Garcia (natalie.h.garcia.20@dartmouth.edu) to learn more.

Women in Student Businesses

Interested in becoming an owner of a student business? Wondering why there is so little female representation in student company leadership? Women in Student Businesses is working to address some of the major barriers to women's involvement in student businesses. WISB connects interested women to ownership opportunities and then educates and mentors them throughout the management process. Now accepting all women interested in participating in the program or taking initiative in its development. Play a role in equalizing business ownership all while receiving hands on business experience!
